Nate & Lorraine
Fillingim

Roosevelt couple celebrates 72nd wedding anniversary

NICHOLE NELSON
nnelson@ubmedia.biz

It was 1943 when Nate and Lorraine Fillingim met. He was herding sheep, she was out checking the cows. Lorraine rode into his camp just as the wind blew Nate's hat off. He spent the next few minutes chasing it - every time he would catch up to it, the wind would blow it into another direction. He finally caught the hat and jumped on it, that's when Nate noticed Lorraine (who was 14 at the time) standing by a tree giggling at him.

Family members say Lorraine lied to Nate about how old she was. He asked if she was 16 and she just let him believe that. A year later, on June 19, 1944, the Fillingim's were married in Elko, Nevada.

Lorraine still giggles thinking about Nate stomping on his hat.

The couple celebrated their 72nd wedding anniversary with a party held at the Villa on Saturday, June 18. They were surrounded by their family and friends. And there was cake, something that Nate was especially excited about.

Family and staff at the Villa enjoy watching the Fillingims interact together.

"They room together here and sometimes they come out separately, but they always go to find each other," Activities Director Sherry Bird said. "They hold hands. The other day I watched Nate make himself around to where Lorraine was just so he could look at her."

Their true smiles appear when they talk about each other and as they tried to remember events of their life together.

"We can't remember exactly what happened or exactly when it happened, but just know it happened," Nate said.

While they couldn't think of any great marriage advice to give, their children said they gave each of them advice before their weddings.

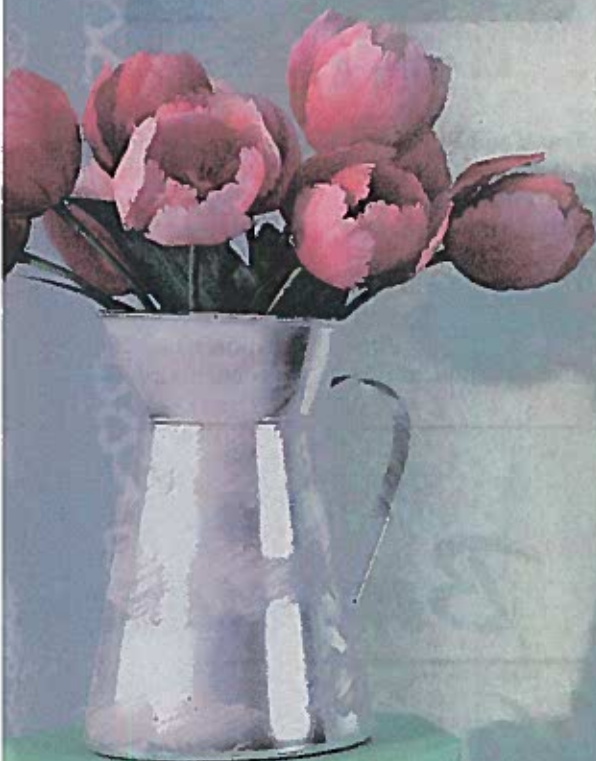

"When my husband and I got married, my father said 'you can come to me for any advice you want, but it's your problem, you go home and take care of it,'" their daughter Barbara Ross said.

When asked what they love most about each other, the answers were simple, sweet and sincere.

"When he needs somebody it's going to be me," Lorraine said.

"There's only one thing you can love about her," Nate said. "It's her."

The Fillingims have eight children, 33 grandchildren, 88 great-grandchildren, 38 great-great-grandchildren, 10 step grandchildren and four step great-grandchildren.

L. Clark and Barbara Roberts of Roosevelt, will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary on September 5, 2015.

Married in the Salt Lake Temple, Mom and Dad began their lives together with love for the Lord, love of hard work and the desire to have a large family.

Mom and Dad met on a blind date that came about through family connections. Dad took Mom dancing and said he knew from their first dance that she was a perfect fit. We're not sure if Dad remembers what Mom was wearing on their first date, but Mom always remembered what Dad was wearing: a blue Pendleton shirt and argyle socks with sandals – not too sure if Dad will admit to that.

The early years were filled with trials and joy. Mom and Dad were pioneers in their own right. They lived on a few hundred acres of land in Pleasant Valley that was homesteaded by Dad's Uncle Frank. The home was a simple log structure that had no running water or electricity. They left for short periods of time while Dad attended BYU, but in the end, the farm was where they were the happiest and they settled down and raised their family. They were blessed with 10 children: Evelyn, Paul, Dermont, John, Elizabeth, Jean, Wendell, Frank, Wendy and Neil. Three of their children, Paul, Dermont and Elizabeth, died shortly after birth, giving Mom and Dad a taste of the refiner's fire. In the end, their faith grew stronger as did their love for each of us.

Dad was the oldest living son in a large family and he felt a great responsibility to be a good example to his siblings. While serving in the military, when the rest of the group was drinking and playing cards, he would go out for a run. Dad loved to run. Shortly after returning from the military, he competed in the mile run for BYU and won first place. On May 1, 1947, Dad boarded a ship and set sail to Buenos Aires, Argentina and served a mission for the LDS Church and was released in December of 1949. He developed a great love for Argentina and for the Spanish language. Dad learned to play the organ while he was in the mission field and he still attends organ recitals on Temple Square whenever possible. At age 27, Dad was set apart as Bishop of Myton Ward by Elder LeGrande Richards. Although he was young, he was ready and willing to serve.

Mom was just 18 when she and Dad married, but she was ready to start a family. Mom was taught to work hard (just ask sometime about preparing chickens for the local café or pulling sunflowers from the wheat field) and was blessed with a spirit of service. She was born with a tender heart that translated into unselfishly seeing to the needs of others before her own. As a young girl, whenever she bought something with her hard earned money, she bought the same for her sister Phyllis. Mom was blessed with many talents! She can draw, paint, sew, garden, cook (no one can beat her potato salad, fudge, or giant sugar cookies), plays the piano and always makes things turn out right. Mom makes us all feel loved and safe and always has an encouraging word and a warm hug. Very few who know Mom well would argue that her greatest gifts are love and friendship.

Perhaps the most important tribute we can pay to Mom and Dad is that they have always displayed charity, the pure love of Christ. Whether times were lean or prosperous, Mom and Dad have always found a way to bless those around them. Mom and Dad will one day step into eternity knowing they taught us what was important – to put others first. We love you both so much! Happy 65th Anniversary!

Feb. 4, 1967, is a day that Todd and Johnnie Searle, as well as many other family members and friends, will never forget. That day marks the beginning of a love story that doesn't come around very often. High school sweethearts, Todd was 18 and Johnnie was 17 when they were married. The odds were against them and the critics were many, but their love has persevered for 50 years. After a few years of traveling, they made their home in Vernal. Todd chose a career as a pipeline welder, which took him away from home often while Johnnie stayed home to raise their three children, Beau, Matt and Brooke.
